

REPUBLICAN PLATFORM FOR FALL ISSUED TODAY

DROUTH REACHES
INTO MAINE; MID-
WEST GETS RAIN

Moisture Is Too Late to Save Many Crops in Parched States

(By The Associated Press.)
The drought reached into Maine today as rains mitigated it in the middle America wheat and corn belts.

Agriculturists said the rains were too late to save the wheat crop in northwestern states, but would probably prevent loss of other crops.

At Washington, President Roosevelt withheld his drought message to Congress, waiting to learn what benefits the rains have had.

In Ohio a federal crop expert said that talk of irreparable damage to crops by the drought was "hysteria" and that "a shower a week" would bring many crops through in fair shape.

NEW DRY SPOTS
Chicago, June 6—(AP)—New dry spots appeared on the nation's drought map today as rains brought some relief to other hard-hit sections.

Spreading eastward, the dry area included states in New England, with crops in Maine threatened by a rainless spell already two weeks old.

Rains scattered dry and dusty fields in many sections of the middle west, but came too late. Agriculture Department officials said to be of benefit to wheat.

Some hope for corn, forage crops and pastures was held out as a result of the rainfalls, especially as the official forecasts indicated "showers and cooler" for much of the drought territory today.

Ironic Nature
The rains in dry sections ranged from gentle showers to downpours, the latter, ironically enough, falling in territory where crops already had perished.

Agriculture statisticians in the northwestern states were almost unanimous in the opinion that the showers now were too late to help wheat much, but would prove invaluable in preserving other crops.

Ohio had rains and expected more to relieve a water shortage in eastern and southern portions of the state. N. W. Baker, federal crop representative, said fear of irreparable damage to crops was "hysteria" and that a fair shower once a week from now on would bring many crops through in "fair shape."

Maine, just beginning to feel the drought, has suffered considerable loss to gardens, pasture land and the hay crop, with the apple yield cut in half by sub-normal temperatures last winter. The situation there was said to require abundant moisture within three days.

See Lower Temperatures
Minnesota and upper Michigan did not look for rain, but lower temperatures were indicated.

LICENSE REVOKED
Washington—The license of the I. L. Lantz dairy of Plainfield, Ill., to sell milk in the Chicago sales area was revoked by the farm administration, but the authority simultaneously stayed the order during such time as the company complies with terms of the milk marketing license.

VARE REGIME ENDS
Philadelphia, June 6—(AP)—The reign of William S. Vare as the leader of the Republican organization in Philadelphia came to an end today with the election of Edwin R. Cox as chairman of the city committee.

BIDS ON SUPPLIES
Rockford—A request for supply bids to make bids on food for the 2,000 Illinois National Guardsmen who will attend the summer encampment here in August was made by Lieut. Col. Richard Swanson, property and disbursing officer at Camp Grant.

HAD DREAM OF WRECK
Pontiac, Ill.—Earl Kinnebrew, a Springfield, Mo., railroad man, had a cut wrist today. Asleep with his wife in a tourist's cabin, he said he dreamed he was in a railroad wreck, and smashed his fist through a window.

DIED IN BURNING FIELD
Payson, Ill.—Apparently falling in flames which he was attempting to extinguish in his tinder-dry field, Chris Rump, prominent Payson farmer, was burned to death.

A house of worship built by the Russian colony in 1912 still stands in fairly good repair near Fort Ross, Cal.

Insull Enjoys World's Fair Tour

Samuel Insull was far away from Chicago in 1933 and missed the first year's edition of the World's Fair, but he made up for lost time by his enjoyment of the sights when he paid an early morning visit to the 1934 exposition. The former utility monarch is shown here as he was wheeled about the grounds by Guide Joseph Ross.

Demonstration Against U. S.
Owned Stores Staged in Three
German Cities by Angry Crowds

Berlin, June 6—(AP)—Angry mobs demonstrated in three cities today against stores of the F. W. Woolworth Company, following reports the American firm had joined an anti-German boycott.

Windows of the store at Kassel were smashed, streaks of paint were daubed on the company's store at Bonn, and a chorus of excited voices shouted "do not buy from this anti-German firm" at Ludwigsafen.

These attacks on the American firm were inaugurated yesterday at Kassel.

Woolworth's German representatives vigorously denied reports reaching Germany that the company had joined a boycott on German goods in America.

Stock Exchanges
Control Law Gets
Final Enactment

Washington, June 6—(AP)—President Roosevelt today signed into law the legislation to tighten Federal regulation of stock exchanges and to relax somewhat the requirements of the securities act. Product of months of controversy, the measure, opposed vigorously by officials of the New York Stock Exchange, was signed by the President in the presence of congressional leaders who handled the legislation.

A new commission is to be formed to regulate the exchanges and administer the securities act. Advocates of the legislation hoped it would curb bad practices on the exchanges and that the liberalization of the securities regulation act would revive the flow of capital.

FLETCHER TO BE CHAIRMAN OF COMMITTEE

Telegram of Felicitations
Sent to Ex-President
Herbert Hoover

Chicago, June 6—(AP)—After the Republican National Committee had agreed on Henry P. Fletcher of Pennsylvania for National Chairman today and his election was prematurely announced by some one in the committee room, the statement was withdrawn as premature, although his selection seemed assured.

The name of John D. M. Hamilton of Kansas also was placed in nomination. Apparently agreed, with factional differences composed, on Fletcher, the committee paused today to send a telegram to former President Herbert Hoover wishing him a restful retirement.

The telegram said: "The Republican National Committee, in meeting assembled, sends you most cordial greetings and reiterates its appreciation of your devotion to our country's best interests and your substantial contribution to the upholding and advancement of American ideals of government. We express the earnest hope that you may be spared for many years to enjoy the well earned gratitude of your countrymen."

The message on its way, the committee resumed work on a new republican platform and statement of policies, which it issued today as a battle cry for the fall congressional elections and as the first move of its comeback campaign.

Control Divided
While Fletcher will be chairman under the peace plan which was said to have restored harmony, the party control will be divided. A new "director of organization" will share the management, committee reported, and this office was expected to go to Philip Collins of Chicago selected by the group of western men which, with eastern support, has opposed Fletcher as the candidate of the "Hoover men."

Along with this reorganization, according to unofficially admitted rumor, the committee planned to set up a number of regional headquarters from which its fall campaign to regain prestige and congressional seats would be directed. Common in the intense years of presidential campaigns, this organization has not formerly been adopted in "off years."

SAMUEL INSULL
MUST BE TRIED
IN U. S. COURTS

Federal Judge Holds
He Was Not Shattered
Into U. S.

Chicago, June 6—(AP)—Samuel Insull must stand trial in United States district court on charges of using the mails to defraud and violations of the bankruptcy laws, Federal Judge Philip Sullivan ruled today.

Judge Sullivan sustained a government demurrer to the defense motion attacking the jurisdiction of the court on the grounds that Insull was illegally returned to this country from Turkey.

Judge Sullivan set the arraignment for next Monday morning, at which time Insull must appear personally to enter a plea to the indictments. He was not present in the courtroom today.

Attorney Floyd E. Thompson, Insull's counsel, indicated he would offer other pleas, in which case Insull will not have to enter a formal plea until those motions are disposed of.

Senate Action to Prevent Passage
of Bonus Payment

Washington, June 6—(AP)—The nation's Capital apparently remains the unopened oyster for the Progressive Miners of America. Through their general counsel, George Dowell, they have resumed efforts to obtain a state-wide referendum among coal miners of Illinois to determine whether the whole craft shall be dominated by the Progressive Miners of the United Mine Workers of America.

With every means of appeal apparently closed to them by leaders of federal industrial recovery agencies and with officials of the United Mine Workers ignoring their efforts, Dowell has admittedly discovered his efforts unrewarded.

"We're trying our darndest to get through that wall," he declared, "but I've got to admit, the wall's pretty thick."

Mrs. Jacob Portner
of Grand Detour is

Definite announcement will be made later, at which time the obituary will also be published.

Dixon Park District Is Now Legal Unit as Result of 1,189 to 510 Election

Maintenance of Fine
Parks Placed Upon
Lasting Basis

By a vote of 1,189 to 510 voters of Dixon and the territory adjacent to Lowell Park, yesterday determined that the maintenance of Dixon's parks shall be placed on a permanent basis and in the hands of commissioners, elected by the people of the district, with power to levy such taxes as are necessary to properly improve and extend the park system as occasion and conditions warrant.

At the same time the voters elected the members of the old park board, named by the council—Louis Pitcher, Edward Valle, E. B. Raymond, B. F. Hoberg and Miss Esther Barton—to be the first commissioners, a marked appreciation of the fine work they have done, without pay of any kind, in planning, maintaining and improving the parks and river banks of the city. They will continue to serve without pay.

Last Step Today
The legal creation of the Dixon Park District was completed this morning when County Judge William L. Leech, who ordered the special election May 3, canvassed yesterday's vote and declared the park district a governmental unit and the five commissioners duly elected.

The special election was the outgrowth of a decision by Attorney General Kerner to the effect that the method of including a park tax in the general levy for the city of Dixon, which had been followed here or many years, was illegal. That decision left the park board without funds for maintaining the popular places this year and had the voters not decided for a park district the future of the parks would have been most uncertain.

With the certification of the creation of the district and the election of the commissioners, the next step will be for the commission to organize, elect a president and decide by lot the length of terms each will serve. One of the five will serve two years from the next statutory park election, next April, after which his successor will be chosen for six years. The commissioners' drawing will also determine who will serve terms of four and six years from next April.

At the same meeting the commission will doubtless authorize the issue of tax anticipation warrants to provide sufficient funds to maintain the park system during the current year. At the proper time the commission will determine the amount of levy to be assessed within the park district next spring.

Tabulated Vote
The tabulation of the vote cast Tuesday:

	For	Against
1st Pct.	714	337
2nd Pct.	397	166
3rd Pct.	78	7

Members of Commission

	1st	2nd	3rd	Tot.
Pitcher	625	358	64	1,047
Valle	647	362	62	1,071
Raymond	624	365	63	1,052
Hoberg	617	352	60	1,029
Barton	617	367	61	1,045

Fifty-nine scattered votes were cast for four men, who were not candidates for commissioner and whose names were written in by their friends.

National Capital
Unopened Oyster
to Prog. Miners

Washington, June 6—(AP)—The nation's Capital apparently remains the unopened oyster for the Progressive Miners of America.

Through their general counsel, George Dowell, they have resumed efforts to obtain a state-wide referendum among coal miners of Illinois to determine whether the whole craft shall be dominated by the Progressive Miners of the United Mine Workers of America.

With every means of appeal apparently closed to them by leaders of federal industrial recovery agencies and with officials of the United Mine Workers ignoring their efforts, Dowell has admittedly discovered his efforts unrewarded.

"Naked Hermit"
Puts on Clothes
at Cost of Life

Chicago, June 6—(AP)—Abe Hinkley, 62-year-old "naked hermit" who lived for 12 years in a chicken coop, put on clothes early today—but it cost him his life.

He was shot and killed by a farmer who told police he saw Hinkley prowling about his chicken coop. The aged recluse was wearing brown trousers and a grey shirt—the first clothes he had donned in a dozen years. His only friend—a starving black cat—was found in his battered suitcase 50 feet away. Hinkley had also some old tin cans and an old English Bible.

Hinkley was going away—driven from his home by police who sought to arrest him for indecent exposure on complaint of residents. It was supposed he was seeking food or a place to sleep when he was slain.

Hinkley had seen better times. He received a small income from a trust estate, but this finally was exhausted. Hinkley made friends with Frank Flanagan, former mayor of Thornton, Ill. Flanagan let him live in the abandoned chicken coop. The recluse subsisted entirely on cow's milk brought to him. He rarely left the coop.

The farmer who shot him, Herman Gonsky, near the village of Hazelrest, said he fired when he appeared Hinkley reached for a weapon in his pocket. A search of his clothing revealed he was carrying an old fashioned straight razor.

$3,270 Robbery in Chicago Hotel was Reported to Cops

Chicago, June 5—(AP)—John G. Livengood of St. Louis, Comptroller of the Missouri-Kansas-Texas Railroad, reported to the police today that $3,270 in jewelry and money was taken from the room he and his wife occupied at the Maryland hotel on North Rush street. Burglars apparently had gained entrance to the room while Mr. and Mrs. Livengood were absent for two hours and a half.

It was apparent that access to the room had been gained by a pass key, since there was no mark of violent entry and the windows were inaccessible from outside. Mr. and Mrs. Livengood had registered at the hotel at 8 o'clock last night.

Contract to Sell
12,000 Horses of
Rockford Company

Grand Island, Neb., June 6—(AP)—The Grand Island Livestock Commission Company announced today that it has closed a deal to sell 12,000 horses from the herds of Chappell Brothers, Rockford, Ill.

On their South Dakota, Wyoming and Montana ranges, Chappell Brothers pasture about 60,000 horses. The horses will be sold at auction from stockyards near the home ranges, or in improvised yards. The first sale will be held June 14 and 15 at LaPlante, S. D.

This was said to be one of the largest horse sales contracts ever negotiated by a commission company.

Police Bullet Ends Life of a

Ledge 200 Feet Down Quarry Side

Chicago, June 6—(AP)—A police bullet today ended the life of a dog which was hopelessly trapped on a ledge 200 feet down the wall of an abandoned quarry, and not many feet above deep water.

DOMINATION BY GOVERNMENT IS
OBJECT OF WAR

"Liberal and Progressive"
Attitude Toward Problems

Chicago, June 6—(AP)—The Republican National Committee, setting out the party's platform for the fall elections, today announced a "liberal and progressive attitude" but declared war on "government domination."

The committee's statement, drafted as a platform for its campaign to win back congressional seats in the fall, was issued as the party leaders went into the second day's session here.

The text follows:
American institutions and American civilization are in greater danger today than at any time since the foundation of the republic.

The people must determine whether we are to remain a democracy or to substitute the domination of an all-powerful central government.

While it is not within the authority of the Republican National Committee to write a detailed party program, under existing circumstances we deem it our duty to set forth the spirit and attitude in which our party should approach the problems of the day, and to restate our principles of government.

Infinite Complexities
Our nation is beset with problems of infinite complexity—the problems of recovery; of unemployment with its unending tale of human suffering; of agriculture with its lost markets and relatively low prices; of forever checking abuses and excesses that have become all too apparent; and, hereafter, the problems of a wider spread of prosperity, of relieving the hardships of unemployment and old age, and of avoiding these tragic depressions.

These problems must be approved in a broad, liberal and progressive spirit, unhampered by dog formulas or too obstinately clinging to the past.

Our country has been backward in legislation dealing with social questions. We welcome the recognition that these questions demand attention by government.

Need Individual Freedom
But we insist that all of these problems can best be solved within the framework of American institutions, in accordance with the spirit and principles of the founders of the republic, without the destruction of individual freedom.

In the name of national recovery, the present administration has committed to a program which unless checked will lead to the chaos of unlimited inflation. The slowly accumulated savings and the present earnings of the people are being consumed recklessly by the government. At the very threshold of life, the youth of the nation is being saddled with unbearable burdens.

A small group in Washington, vested with temporary authority, is seeking covertly to alter the framework of American institutions. They seek to expand to the utmost limit the powers of the central government. In place of individual initiative they seek to substitute complete government control of all agricultural production, of all business activity.

Is Nothing New
There is nothing new in most of the present political and economic experiments. History records a long record of failure of similar experiments. As often in the past, the people least able to bear the burden will be the chief sufferers from the mistakes of misguided bureaucrats, who ignore history.

Progress, liberty and democracy go hand in hand. Even if by tyranny, government could assure material well-being—which it cannot—it is too heavy a price to pay.

Given liberty of expression and of action, the people are better able to find a solution for their problems than any group of autocrats. We must not see destroyed in four years a civilization which has seen centuries in building and which has brought to our nation, greater progress, well-being and happiness than have ever been enjoyed by any nation, any time, anywhere.

Must Keep Obligations
In the interest of the re-establishment of faith in our government, we insist that there shall be no further repudiation of solemn obligations of the government.

We believe that governments and men who cannot stand criticism are those most in need of it and that only through deliberate discussion can we reach sound conclusions.

THE WASHING DAY

THE little cottage on the shore has clothes-lines in and out. The waves come almost to the door.
And all the linen pinned about.
Catches the freshness of the gales.
And, leaning to the waterside, Gathers the wind, like sunny sails Ready to journey with the tide.

There, where the sparkling waters spread,
Their foaming ripples at the feet.
The linen dangles over-head Flapping, fluttering, clean and sweet.
Below the hillside's grassy slopes, Above the fringes of the bay, It tugs against the tautened ropes Full of its breezy holiday.

Laughter Is Cure for Family Troubles

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON
The other day a woman got on the street car with a tiny boy in tow.

Evidently Fritz, or Tatters or Cecil, or whatever the dog's name was, had come to see them off on their trip to town.

However, the parting was too much for him. With the agility of a moth, he shot between the legs of two policemen standing on the platform, wiggled past the conductor-motorman, and wormed his way through a forest of feet to the other end of the car.

"I can't take the dog along," wailed the lady. "Tell the motorman to stop the car so he can find his way home."

But the motorman, now behind time, had other things to think about besides dogs. He had started off with his foot hard on the gas, so to speak, and he was making the most of the green lights.

"Oh, dear, if he goes too far he'll be lost," said the worried lady anxiously.

"Sure he will," agreed everybody. And everybody agreed, too, that no one could go shopping with a baby and a dog. It just couldn't be done. No, sir! Nobody could have a dog tramping at her heels, getting choked in swinging doors and tramped on in elevators, even if the floorwalkers didn't see him and put him out.

Sigh of Relief
So pressure was brought to bear on the motorman about three blocks down, and Fritz, or Tatters, or Cecil, was passed from hand to hand and foot to foot and gently but firmly ejected.

He nearly got his head cut off trying to get back to the family, but at last he was clear. Fifty necks stretched to look back and when his yellow form was seen at last standing forlornly, but safely, on the sidewalk, a sigh of relief went up. If one can hear even an orchestral sigh over the noise of our cars.

"He's safe," he'll go home. Don't worry."

It was a general introduction. Everyone talked to everyone else. Even the grumps got chummy. Well—that was not all. By and by some one discovered a sparrow sitting on the edge of an open ventilator. Bets went round as to how long he would stay. The bird, however, had some shopping to do, too, evidently, and a five-mile trip free of charge on the street car was more to his taste than flying.

He sat and preened himself, so he would look his best. Then he settled down and just rode.

Perhaps he made the loop. At any rate he was there when the crowd got off.

Laugh and Let Laugh
People waiting for the car must have thought the circus was over. The disembarking passengers were grinning like school let out.

A dog and a bird! Funny only because they were out of place.

Too bad to tack on a moral to just plain fun, but I think it is true that there is merriment all ways around the corner if we would stretch our necks. Family life is always so much happier for laughter. It is the best medicine under the sun. What we look on as trouble can often be switched to an angle of comedy if we cultivate that saving grace, a sense of humor. Children laugh because they see fun in most things. How quickly we kill it. Why can't we let them laugh and laugh with them?

"Just like a lot of kids." It is a good sign when people say that of parents. What this country needs is fun. We are starving ourselves unnecessarily, I think.

When the time came for going to their homes they all said they had had a good time.

Party in Honor Of Nonagenarian Held Yesterday

Christopher C. Parker who resides in Nachusa and who was ninety years old yesterday, attained a wish of years standing yesterday afternoon and last evening, when a birthday party in celebration of his natal day was held at his home.

The party was largely attended, one hundred and seventy guests being in attendance, last evening, and during the afternoon forty guests called at the home.

The decorations for happy day were beautifully carried out in yellow and pink, with a profusion of lovely flowers. Mr. Parker received many nice cards, greetings from friends old and new, and beautiful and substantial gifts.

Last evening the attractive lawn was electrically illuminated. A musical program was a feature of the happy evening, the Golden Chord Ensemble whose leader is Myron Austin, furnishing Hawaiian music and vocal music. Mr. Austin and his mother, Mrs. Lillian Austin sang several duets including "The Old Mill by Waterfall," and "Prayer Meeting in the Hollow," with guitar accompaniment. Mr. Austin also gave some of his Alpine yodels. At the request of Mr. Parker "Silver Threads Among the Gold" was sung.

Some inviting refreshments were served. There were two large birthday cakes and angel food cake, and ices and bon bons. The cakes were decorated with candles and flowers. All guests signed a register so Mr. Parker can glance over it and recall the pleasant evening vividly.

Pictures were taken of him, also. His daughter, Mrs. Herick stated over the phone this morning that she thought her father would be all tired out this morning, but instead she said he was "fit as a fiddle." He is truly a remarkable old gentleman.

Last fall, to prove how active he is, he hushed seven bushels of corn alone. Announcement of his birthday was made yesterday over the National Broadcasting Co. during the Chicago hour. His six daughters, Mrs. Melissa A. Herick of Detroit, Mich.; Mrs. T. W. Brown of Franklin Grove, Mrs. W. F. Weeden of Chicago, Mrs. J. M. Spread of New Orleans, La., Mrs. O. R. Eicholtz and Mrs. J. Fred Johnson of Nachusa are the living children of a family of 11, ten daughters and one son, the others together with his wife, having preceded him in death. Mrs. Parker passed on in March, 1932. Since that time he has made his home with his two daughters in Nachusa.

The entire evening proved most enjoyable, both to Mr. Parker, and to his many guests, both in the afternoon and evening, and on departing all left best wishes for Mr. Parker's good health and happiness, and expressed pleasure for the gracious hospitality of the evening.

Blue Eagle Club Was Entertained
The Blue Eagle club was delightfully entertained last evening at the home of Mrs. A. L. Carroll, with Miss Vera Bentley as hostess. Mrs. Carroll was awarded the favor for high honors at bridge and Mrs. Joe Farley was awarded the consolation favor. Following cards delicious refreshments were served. The centerpiece for the table was a beautiful bouquet of red roses.

Mrs. Huffman Hostess Gleaners' Club

The Gleaners Club of the First Christian church were guests of Mrs. A. L. Huffman, on Pennsylvania avenue, in a delightful picnic dinner last evening. Because of the threatening shower, the tables were spread in the basement of the Huffman cottage and about thirty guests sat together and enjoyed the sumptuous picnic dinner.

Following the dinner, the ladies and their husbands assembled in the spacious living room for the business meeting of the club. In the absence of the president and vice president, Mrs. J. A. Barnett was chosen temporary chairman. The collectors made very gratifying reports. The election of officers for the ensuing year was held with the following ladies chosen:

President, Mae Howe.
Vice Pres., Sue Stauffer.
Secretary, Erna Gilman.
Treasurer, Lela F. Huffman.
Pianist, Mrs. H. Reitzell.
Chorister, Ethel King.

Mrs. S. A. Bennett had charge of the social hour the special feature being two guitar numbers by Mrs. Francis Biggs.

Miss Bresett Honored Saturday Eve

The Daedaleon class of the M. E. church, taught by Miss Vivian G. Lowry, met Saturday evening at the pleasant home of the vice president, Miss Lorraine Hull, south of Dixon.

The occasion was a farewell party given in honor of Miss Shirley Bresett, one of the most faithful and dependable members, who is moving back to Springfield, Massachusetts. Miss Bresett, a Dixon high school graduate of this fall, plans to attend Wellesley College this fall.

A picnic dinner was held on the lawn at 6:00 P. M. Eleven were present to enjoy the occasion. Following the dinner, Miss Bresett was presented with a crystal dresser set with mirror, by the president of the class, Miss Marguerite Lund with the best wishes from the entire class. The recipient of the gift responded in a fitting manner. She is a girl with a sweet personality who has won many Dixon friends. It was with a feeling of deep regret that her class bade her good-bye.

The members whose birthdays occur this month are: Misses Lorraine Hull and Lucy Lawton. All departed at an early hour, after thanking the hostess for a delightful evening.

Boston, June 6.—(AP)—She has lived 109 years and she thinks there are too many old folks in the world.

She has two ways of judging people—if they are polite, well-mannered and democratic, she likes them; if they are prejudiced in their opinions, she has no patience.

She is Dr. Marie de Voliere Davenport, the daughter of a Tartar nobleman and a Polish countess.

Dr. Davenport was seated in the lobby of a downtown hotel. She puffed a cigarette as her eyes roamed everywhere with an amusing twinkle.

An elderly woman bustled by, obviously upset.

"Bah," she explained, "there are too many old people in the world."

Her recipe for youth is simple but strenuous.

"I hate to sit still and do nothing," she said. "I like to travel and meet people, lecture now and then, read and study philosophy."

She has no patience with people who speak of financial worries and troubles.

"Why worry? Worry means wrinkles and old age."

Dr. Davenport was born in the St. Petersburg of old Russia and was educated in Paris.

At the age of 68 she married William Davenport, her third husband. He is a member of an old Virginia family, was correspondent for a London newspaper during the World War and was shell shocked. A newspaperman and poet, he is at present in St. Louis.

Dr. Davenport is the oldest living former pupil of the composer Liszt and she still plays the piano well.

WHILE MAN QUARRELS, NATURE TAKES TOLL.

News of the drouth and heat wave hammering the corn belt is a sharp reminder that the farmer's primary enemies are neither over-production nor high freight rates, but ancient inanimate forces that can neither be defeated nor wholly understood.

The first cave man who scratched the soil with a stick and dropped a few wild seeds into the scratch was at the mercy of the elements; and the ultra-modern farmer, who uses expensive machinery and gets advice from his state agricultural college, is, in the last analysis, in the same boat.

Whether he will get a good crop depends on things over which he has not the slightest control—rain, wind, and sun. If they are kind, his ground will yield bountifully; if they aren't, it won't, and there is nothing he can do about it.

The old risks of agriculture—the oldest business risks in all the world—are the same now as they were before the pyramids had been built.

The corn belt's sufferings this spring remind one of those eerie predictions some geologists have made—that the greater part of the interior of America is destined, some day, to become semi-arid and barren, a nearly waterless region, where things will not grow and men will not be able to live except as scattered nomads.

To be sure, not all geologists make this prediction, and those who make it put the time of this change far in the future—which, to a geologist, means anywhere from 50,000 years up; so that no one need worry for fear that the hot, dry weather which is blighting crops today is the forerunner of the desert's arrival in Iowa.

Nevertheless, these stories of parching drouth and devastating heat make one think about it. And they lead one to wonder how long it will be before men get sense enough to settle their differences with one another and present a united front toward their real enemies—the implacable and unrelenting forces of nature.

For these troubles of the present day—over-production, marketing difficulties, tariff restrictions, falling prices, and the like—are, after all, secondary. Settle them all, and there still remains the task of forcing the earth to yield enough to feed her teeming millions.

That is the oldest of all society's problems, and it will probably be the last to be solved.

FIASCO'S FINALE.

Early this summer, officials of the American Graves Registration Service will go to Archangel, that chilly Russian White Sea port, to exhume the bodies of some 40 American soldiers.

The bodies will be sent back to the United States for burial, as has been done with so many soldier casualties from the battlefields of France.

Their transportation will close one of the most melancholy chapters in American military history.

We sent an expeditionary force to Archangel, late in the World War. We were not at war with Russia, but American troops fought Russian troops, in the dead of Arctic winter. Michigan lads who had enlisted to fight the Kaiser in France found themselves far up in Russia, making war long after the armistice had been signed.

It was hard to see why they were there, at the time, and it is even harder now. They died heroically, as soldiers do—but it is very difficult to keep from feeling that their deaths were in vain.

ENGLAND'S MAN HUNT.

England had a great manhunt of her own not long ago. A desperate gunman was in flight, just as desperate gunmen have been in flight in the United States every so often; and all the powers of England's police set out after him.

They trapped him, finally, and, seeing capture certain, he killed himself.

Now the interesting thing is to see what it was this fear-some thug had done. He had shot and wounded a policeman! To be sure, the wound was not serious. Nevertheless, the shooting had taken place, and the sensation that gripped all England was quite as great as the one that Clyde Barrow raised in the United States.

The comparison between what it takes to make a sensation in England and in America is bound to be rather painful to law-abiding citizens of the United States.

War is a racket. I know because I've been in it for 35 years and I'm not now to rouse the American people to put an end to this racket.—Maj. Gen. Smedley D. Butler.

The young of today have no faith in their parents. In fact, they obviously consider their fathers and mothers pitifully lacking in common sense.—F. Scott Fitzgerald, famous author.

If I could count on six runs every time I pitched, I'd win 30 games a season.—Wesley Ferrell, Boston Red Sox pitcher.

An armaments race must be avoided if it is humanly possible. The world cannot stand the strain.—M. Louis Barthou, French foreign minister.

I've done everything in the theater except marry a property man.—Fannie Brice.

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE.)

Old Jack Sprat said "All right, now, lots. Before you there are lots and lots of sandwiches for you to eat. I hope they taste just fine. "Just keep on eating, while they last. Be careful, though, don't eat too fast. The reason I've got health is 'cause I take my time with mine."

Then Jack's kind wife said, "I will get some milk. It will taste good. I'll bet." She hustled to the kitchen and came back with several quarts.

Wee Duncy started stuffing and Jack said, "Lad, can't you understand that if you eat so fast it will make you feel all out of sort?"

Brave Scouty laughed and said, "Aw, he is always hungry as can be. I hope that he will take your advice, so he will not be ill."

Then wee Duncy slowed down quite a bit and consequently felt quite fit, as he took his last bite and cried, "Gee, I have had my fill!"

Soon Dotty said, "Well, thanks so much. We really never have had such good sandwiches." And then the Tines bid the Sprats goodbye.

"They hiked along a block or so. Then Goldy stopped and shouted, "Oh, Look into that big tree. 'Tis lucky we came by this way."

The Tines saw a baby there. It was in a cradle. What a scare! "Oh run to Jack Sprat's house and get a blanket," Goldy cried. "That cradle is going to fall I fear. We will hold the blanket right down here and save the baby from a crash. At least it can be tried."

It didn't take wee Coppy long to get the blanket. It looked very strong. The Tines stood and held it just a short way from the ground.

"Gee, if we fail, it will be a shame," said Scouty. Then the cradle came tumbling from the tree limb, and it landed safe and sound.

(Duncy gets into a terrible mess in the next story.)

Living Our Everyday Lives

SHUT THE DOOR

(By Dr. Joseph Fort Newton.)

Jesus told us to go into our closet, shut the door, and pray to God in secret. He did not like to see men parade their piety.

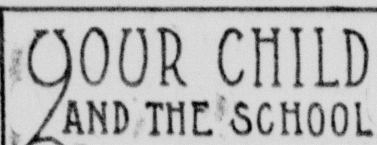

Alas, we have very little piety to parade today, but His wisdom is still valid. Our problem is to keep our sanity, let alone our sanctity, in the midst of the medley of things that beat upon us.

The trouble is to get the door shut and keep it shut. Life today is so hectic, so hurried, so like a motion-picture, that we can hardly shut the door at all, much less long enough to say our prayers. All the world piles in upon us with its glare and glare, intruding upon our very souls. The very air we breathe is charged with excitement. So many voices shout at us that we cannot hear ourselves think.

Never were so many things going on in the world, things new and unsettling, both for good and evil. Noble causes appeal to us. Cries of human need stir us. Daring adventures challenge our courage.

Yet if we are to have any poise of mind, any peace of soul, any power to help anybody, we must be able to get away bytimes, to be quiet, to relax to think, to pray, to renew the inner forces of our life.

To begin with, we must be able to reject a lot of things that force

Caring for the Teeth

An unclean mouth takes the edge off one's appetite. Sore gums and painful teeth naturally curb a desire to eat and encourage bolting.

Observations seem to indicate that we overlook these facts too frequently when dealing with children. A look into a child's mouth would be revealing to many parents.

Proper care of the teeth is a two-fold matter. Teeth ought to be examined regularly by a dentist and his instructions followed. He will tell you that food is the important factor in preventing tooth decay.

The chief foods for teeth are the so-called "protective foods"—milk, fruits and vegetables. Do not deprive a child of any of these if you wish him to have sound, even teeth.

A child should also be taught to care for his own teeth. Brushing the teeth and gums is an important habit, though we do not any longer believe that cleanliness alone will prevent tooth decay. Nevertheless it is as important as washing the face or hands and every child should learn it early in life.

Dental caries, or decay of the teeth, has been called the most prevalent disease in America. It is estimated that 90 to 95 per cent of all children have it. Parents, by proper care, can prevent much of it.

Summer vacation time approaches. Dr. Ireland will discuss its special problems next week.

Daily Health Talk

TOMORROW—EGGS

Among the specific causes of bowel disorders are chronic disease conditions existing elsewhere in the body.

For example, a diseased gall-bladder of an inflamed appendix can by reflex disturbances interfere with the functions of the colon. An inflamed Fallopian tube (part of the reproductive system of the female) or a diseased ovary may set up spasms in nearby segments of the bowel.

Dietetic peculiarities and freak diets contribute to bowel disturbance.

The so-called colon dyspeptic tends to reduce his diet in order to relieve the so-called indigestion. By doing so he aggravates the condition by increasing his constipation. To treat his constipation he indulges in cathartics, which in turn irritate his bowel, which affect his dyspepsia, etc., etc.

Important also among the causes of bowel disturbances are emotional upsets and fatigue. Over-indulgence in tobacco exposure to cold, worry, and anxiety, by stimulating and taxing the nervous system, reflexly affect colon functions.

Perhaps one of the common sources of irritation and disturbance to those already "nervous about their colon" is the belief that constipation leads to the absorption into the body of poisons or toxins.

That fermenting and putrefying waste matter does give rise to chemical and bacterial toxins is an established fact, but there is little experimental evidence to prove that such toxins are absorbed from the colon in sufficient amounts to cause injury or impairment to health.

The nervous headaches, the "spots before the eyes" and other nondescript symptoms complained of by constipation sufferers are more frequently due to hypochondriac imagination than to toxins.

The sufferer from bowel disturbances needs first a careful medical examination.

Finally, the bowel sufferer needs a good sustaining diet, which should be as inclusive as possible.

FRANKLY, one of the chief reasons why I enjoy Chesterfield is the fact that I don't get little crumbs of tobacco in my mouth.

Rarely ever do I find a Chesterfield that isn't well filled. The tobacco in them seems to be of the right length, and they must be the right size because they burn right and smoke right.

I like them also because they are milder.

BOY, ARRESTED FOR CAR THEFT, ADMITS MURDER

Officers of Ogle County Learn of Slaying in Rockford

Melvin Friels, 20, of Rockford, confessed to Sheriff Frank Murray and State's Attorney S. Donald Crowell of Ogle county at Springfield last night that he murdered Louis Dal Collo, Rockford tavern keeper, the night of April 17.

The youth, who said he was on parole from the Pontiac reformatory, named two accomplices in the murder besides Angelo Buscemi, who was fatally wounded in the duel with Dal Collo.

Friels had been taken into custody by Springfield police at Springfield on Monday as a suspicious character. They found that the car in his possession was a Rockford u-drive machine and had been stolen at Oregon. They notified Sheriff Murray of Oregon who, with State's Attorney S. Donald Crowell and Chief Deputy Sheriff Walter Perrine, went to Springfield yesterday to bring the prisoner back to Ogle county for prosecution.

Blurted Out Confession
Sheriff Murray was questioning the youth in the Springfield city jail late last night when he suddenly made the sensational statement that he was the actual killer of Dal Collo. He offered to show authorities where he had hidden the gun with which Dal Collo was killed.

He asserted that he, Buscemi and others had long made a practice of extorting small sums of cash from tavern keepers of Rockford and its environs and that "something went wrong" when they called upon Dal Collo the night of April 17 to collect tribute from him.

Sheriff Murray, in a long distance conversation at midnight said he was not convinced the youth was telling a "straight story." He said, however, that he would bring him to Oregon today and asked that Rockford police and State's Attorney Robert Nash of Winnebago county be at the Ogle county jail at 2:30 P. M. for the purpose of questioning the prisoner.

Friels, Murray said, admitted to him the burglary of the Home oil station in Rockford Sunday night, in which he obtained $42 in cash. He said he fled to Oregon Monday and found a car parked along the river bank there which he stole, continuing on to Peoria, where he sold a tire to obtain money for gasoline and then made his way on to Springfield. There he loitered at a gasoline station and aroused suspicions of an attendant who summoned police.

Rockford police records show that Friels was arrested on Jan. 20, 1931, for burglary and larceny. The record of that date gives his address as 408 River Lane, Loves Park.

Friels told Sheriff Murray last night that his parents, three brothers and two sisters, are now living in Rockford.

Louis Dal Collo, who operated an obscure tavern at 3005 Kishwaukee street, Rockford, had just closed up the place at midnight the night of April 17 and was about to enter his home next door when shot to death.

A short time later, Angelo Buscemi, a bullet wound in his back, was found in a car parked in front of St. Anthony hospital. He died 10 days later without ever revealing his part in the killing of Dal Collo or naming his accomplices.

100 TO 9 SHOT WINNER EPSOM DOWNS CLASSIC

Favorite for English Derby Finished in Third Position

Epsom Downs, June 6—(AP)—Windsor Lad, an outsider in the betting, today won the 156 running of the English Derby.

Easton, second choice in the wagering, was second and Colombo, the favorite, third.

Windsor Lad, quoted at 100 to 9, carried the silks of the Maharaja of Rajpina while Easton represented Lord Woolavington. Colombo, unbeaten in nine previous races, carried the silks of Lord Glanely.

Colombo, which beat Easton by a length in the two thousand guineas, went to the post the choice at 6 to 4 of the crowd of 250,000, including the King and Queen. Easton was sold after the two thousand guineas by Ralph Strassburger of Philadelphia to Lord Woolavington for $75,000.

Tiburius, running for Sir Abe Bailey, was fourth into finish the one and one-half mile journey while William Woodward's Bondsman, the only American-owned horse in the field, was unplaced. Windsor Lad, ridden by I. Smirke, finished a length in front of Easton while a neck separated the latter from the fast closing Colombo.

The official odds quoted Windsor Lad at 15 to 2, Easton at 100 to 9 and Colombo at the short price of 11 to 8. In view of Colombo's dominance in the betting there was a special pool in which Windsor Lad was held at 13 to 8.

Dublin, Irish Free State, June 6—(AP)—Windsor Lad, by winning the English Derby at Epsom Downs today tossed $604,800 into the laps of United States citizens.

Four tickets in the Irish Hospital Sweepstakes on Windsor Lad were drawn by Americans.

The tickets on Windsor Lad held by Americans were issued to: "A. G. E. G. M. C. D. C." Nashua, (state not given but probably New Hampshire);

"Alma Mammy," New York; H. Fillman, South Pasadena, California; Mr. and Mrs. Hamill, Irvington, N. Y.

"Affect" and "Effect"

To affect is usually to influence, as in the sentence "The weather affected his health," though it also has other meanings. To effect is always to accomplish or produce, as in the sentence "He has effected great reforms." These two verbs cannot be used interchangeably.

unday afternoon to spend ten days with the young people of the church in the observance of Youth Week, June 10-17.

This quartet is very popular in its radio work as well as in church meetings. The president of Taylor University said in his letter to the pastor, Dr. Gilbert Stansell, yesterday: "Robert Dennis will be in charge of the group. They are outstanding fellows. They can work singly or double, or any other way you want them. Tell them what you want and they are with you. I hope you have a great time with them."

The Young People's Fellowship, Henry Hubbel, president, and the Epworth League, Frances Naylor, president, have each appointed five members to meet this evening after the mid-week service to make final plans for the get-acquainted picnic, at the church Saturday evening at 6:00 o'clock. These two organizations are inviting all the young people of the church to bring some food and come and meet these four young men from Indiana.

After the supper there will be a short sing under the leadership of Miss Milla Wohner. The presidents of the two organizations will then speak words of welcome after which the pastor will present each man of the quartet for brief talks. Then the men will sing two or three groups. Announcements will be made concerning the busy days of the week following.

BEIER BAKERS WIN WITH AID OF TWIRLING

Feltang Bright Star of Soft Ball Game Last Evening

The Beier Bakers succeeded in outwitting the league leading Brant's Rockets of Rock Falls last evening at the Airport field behind excellent pitching on the part of Adolph Feltang and won by the narrow margin of 7 to 6. Rock Falls' total could have been reduced considerably had not members of the local team started dropping the ball and throwing wildly at a time when it was apparent that the locals would win easily.

Feltang was at his best on the mound and repeatedly retired the visiting team in one-two-three order. He piled up a record of 15 strikeouts for the evening as his part in winning the game and allowed but four hits in the entire nine innings. George Lebre was the leading hitter of the game with a home run into deep center in the eighth inning scoring Kehrt ahead of him.

Bakers Score First
The Bakers started off the scoring in the second inning after having threatened to count in the opener of the delivery of George Rakow, manager of the Rock Falls team, who is considered one of the best twirlers in the league. Fane and Kays registered singles in the first but could not score. Lebre started off the second with a single to left and went to second on a passed ball. Redebaugh singled to center and Hasselberg was walked, filling the bases. Underwood paddled one into deep center, scoring Lebre and Redebaugh. Hasselberg following across the plate when Feltang sent a high one into short field. In the seventh, with one gone, Hasselberg singled to left and Underwood sent a hot liner to short which was juggled long enough for both runners to be safe. Feltang was out at first advancing the runners and Carlson hit a hot grounder through first which rolled into right field permitting Hasselberg to score.

Falls Took Lead
Rock Falls came from behind in the eighth to take the lead by a 5 to 4 count and the Bakers opened up their batting practice in their half of the eighth. Kays sent a low line drive to right, and took second on a passed ball. Miller was out on an infield roller to short and Kehrt cracked one to short which handcuffed the fielder and went for a hit, scoring Kays. Lebre stepped into one of Rakow's deliveries and sent it back into the parking space in center field for a home run, scoring Kehrt ahead of him and putting Dixon in the lead again. The visitors tried for a ninth inning rally which was productive of one run when the Bakers loosened up and Feltang put a stop to the proposed rally by fanning Bellini.

About 500 people witnessed the interesting game which was followed by a trick bicycle rider's program which was well worth seeing and which was provided by the Airport management and the Beier bakers of this city. Dixon will meet Rock Falls in a second game on their own field next Thursday evening when Clark is scheduled to perform the pitching duties.

Pompton Lakes, N. J., June 6—(AP)—Vell, Sharlie, after I see Corn Griffin trainunk here mit a great big man dree dimes his size, I tell you it still take a goat man, besser maypee than Max Baer, to vin the championship away from him and so I tell my peebble.

I am very goot about prize fights, I vas vunce a prize fighter myself, Sharlie. So you don't dink so, eh. Vas you dere, Sharlie? No? Vell den I vas vunce a prize fighter myself. I vas known as Kid Schpider, neffer fought, neffer vun. Neffer should I haf quit. Pile suggestive knockouts I had, Sharlie. Just imagine it, life suggestive knockouts. Hes, hes. Five times I vas knocked out.

So I find outd efforting vor mine peebble, I boxed one round with Carnara, who iss the champpeen. I find outd, and not Griffin.

So I hit him the first punch and I hit him the third punch and for twenty minutes in between nothing happens. That vas when he hit me the second punch, Sharlie.

Prima waves hif gluffs to vun sparring partner and says "Come on outd," and like a fool he vent. He vent outd all right, hes, hes. Carnara is in great shape. He wears out eight cameramen just taking his pictures and five men it takes to put on him his gluffs. He bossess goot. So Thursday I go down by Baer's camp in Asbury Park to tell my peebbles aboutd him too.

So far I am sure that Baer tips his hat besser than Carnara. He obens do-vors besser. When the wedder iss vet and a lady has to walk across the striedd, he will take off his coat and say: "My deer lady, you can now pass offer and your tootsies won't get vet. You remember Sir Valtor Raleigh? Sir Valtor Raleigh Baer? Vell, I'm him."

Dot's out Max. If this is a condest for stage, screen or rakio, Max would vin mit a mile and no dialect. But dis is a condest in rink. Many stories could I tell you Sharlie from my own condests in the rink. Vat, you don't believ me? Tell me, vas you dere Sharlie? No?

So I vun all the championships from flyweights to heavyweights. Now I go see Baer.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

WIDE OPEN GOLF TOURNEY LIKELY AT MERION CLUB

Everyone But Goodman
Expects Champ to Lose His Title

Philadelphia, June 6—(AP)—The sizzling preliminary firing over Merion's golfing battleground points to a wide-open charge after the 39th national open championship, with any one of many stars or darkhorses likely to shoot the crown off Johnny Goodman's head. Goodman got a belated start in testing his shots against Merion's tricks and traps, and 149 other crack argonauts of the fairways, both professional and amateur, got in their last practice licks today before the start of the real fusillade tomorrow.

By helping Uncle Sam win the Walker Cup matches with Great Britain last month, Goodman conceded his challengers a head start in their workouts because of his late return from England. Some of the contestants have been at Merion more than a week, while the 25-year-old Omaha amateur didn't check in until late Monday.

Has Tough Job
As if that were not enough of a handicap, the blond-haired Johnny, who topped the field with 287 at Chicago last year, found himself heir to one of the toughest assignments any defending open champion has encountered in many years.

Because of the almost unlimited scoring possibilities this 6,694-yard, par 70 course, offers, at least half a dozen stars are conceded a better chance of copping the crown than Johnny.

Nine days on an ocean liner and a rushed train ride from Boston have shaken everything but the champion's courage and confidence. Although his tee shots and approaching game are far from reminiscent of his sparkling rounds at North Shore last year, Johnny Goodman still believes in Johnny Goodman and all the par-shattering rounds the pros have been bursting around Merion haven't intimidated the lad.

Chief Opposition
Goodman's chief opposition points in the direction of such clever club-wielders as Gene Sarazen, Walter Hagen, Tommy Armour and Bill Burke, all former titleholders, as well as Paul Runyan, the winter's big money winner, Denny Shute, the British open king, Ky Laffoon, the Denver demon, Olin Dutra, Wiffy Cox, Craig Wood and more than a score of others, including two of his Walker Cup mates, W. Lawson Little, Jr., British amateur champion, and Gus Moreland, the bronzed Texan, who was the second lowest scoring amateur in the 1933 title event.

In addition to that list of luminaries, there is plenty of room for a "dark horse" to step in and steal the show just as Goodman did.

To Use Jones' Clubs
A considerable controversy has developed among the pros in con-

PHILLIES SHOW POWER AGAINST BROOKLYN TEAM

A Little More Pitching
Might Make Wilson's Outfit

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR., Associated Press Sports Writer

One of the best of this year's crop of baseball yarns concerns the fan who watched the Phillies as they lost their seventh successive game at the start of the season and toward the end loudly addressed Manager Jimmy Wilson:

"You asked for it, Jimmy; now you're getting it."

After a longer trial, however, it begins to appear that the Phils aren't quite as bad as they have been painted. The Phils showed plenty of power in a crowd-pleasing way yesterday as they trimmed the Brooklyn Dodgers in both ends of a doubleheader.

They made it look as if they might begin to go somewhere if they could round up a little more reliable pitching. After spotting the Dodgers a six run rally in the opener, when Ed Holley weakened in the fifth, the Phils got four back and knocked Van Mungo out in the same frame and finally won out in the ninth 11 to 10 when Bud Clancy, recently brought up from Buffalo to supplant Don Hurst at first, socked a home run with one on base. They repeated the comeback in the second clash, scoring all their runs in the eighth for a 5-4 victory after Ray Beeghly had given only three hits in the first seven frames. Ethan Allen again brought in the winning runs with a homer.

Paul Dean Beat Cubs
Philadelphia's double victory couldn't change the league standing, but the first-place St. Louis Cardinals took care of that part of the day's activities by trimming Chicago 6 to 3 to knock the Cubs out of the three-way virtual tie for the lead. Paul Dean pitched seven-hit ball for his sixth mound victory. The New York Giants kept their place six points behind the Cards by making effective use of 16 hits, including three home runs, to beat Boston 13 to 4.

The Pittsburgh-Cincinnati game was rained out. The Boston Red Sox made the only real forward step in the American League when they turned back the pace-setting Yankees 8 to 3 while all the other clubs divided double bills. Timely clouting against Russ Van Atta plus Wes Ferrell's two-hit relief pitching turned the trick.

Tigers Keep Pace
The Detroit Tigers barely failed to capture the lead from the Yanks. They equalled the season's high scoring record in the first game against Cleveland by slamming out 21 hits and a 20 to 2 victory but lost out in the nightcap when Bill Knickerbocker's triple in the ninth brought a 5-4 decision for the Indians.

The Athletics and Senators had to go ten innings in each game to split their bill. Philadelphia won the first 8 to 7 with a three run rally off Al Crowder as Washington took the second 4 to 3 with a couple of tenth inning walks off Joe Cascarella and Johnny Stone's single doing the damage.

Sad Sam Jones limited the fourth-place St. Louis Browns to six hits to give Chicago an 8 to 2 opening victory but three fingers, starting with Les Tietje, couldn't check the second-game hitting and St. Louis won 10 to 5 despite Zeke Bonura's 14th homer.

LEE IS ONE OF 31 COUNTIES IN DROUGHT RELIEF

Acreage Reduction Restrictions Relaxed by Government

Springfield, Ill., June 6 —(AP)—General deterioration of Illinois crops was reported today as 31 northern and central counties were included in the "secondary" drought area established by federal officials as part of the farm relief program.

Light showers over the week end gave virtually no relief from the drought that has seared the Illinois corn belt since the spring planting season started. The weather bureau announced in its week crop bulletin.

From Washington came word that 31 counties—nearly a third of the state—were included in the secondary area in which the AAA relaxed its acreage reduction restrictions so that forage crops can be grown on government-rented land.

First U. S. Recognition of the drought crisis in Illinois and came after Governor Horner telegraphed a plea for aid to Secretary of Agriculture Wallace.

The counties in the new drought area are: Boone, Bureau, Carroll, Cook, DeKalb, DuPage, Grundy, Henry, Jo Daviess, Kane, Kankakee, Kendall, Knox, Lake, LaSalle, Lee, Marshall, McDonough, McHenry, Mercer, Ogle, Peoria, Rock Island, Stark, Stephenson, Warren, Whiteside, Will and Winnebago.

In his crop bulletin for the week ending yesterday, E. W. Holcomb of the local weather bureau said: "Light showers occurred generally at the week end, relieving the drought very temporarily but in a few favored spots the showers were fairly heavy."

Chinch Bugs Are Doing much damage to grains. Crops generally in the southern division are in fair condition on account of the more favorable past moisture conditions, but there was general deterioration the past week.

"Elsewhere marked deterioration occurred, with winter wheat mostly in poor condition and spring sown grains, truck, meadows and pastures largely a failure, however a fair crop of alfalfa is being cut in areas."

"Oats in areas of the northwest are heading too short to cut, and that crop in many places is being pastured or plowed under and replanted to soy beans or other legumes. Winter wheat is heading short with small heads which on the drift soils are not filling well, and there is considerable flaking."

"Corn is generally small with uneven germination and growth. Some is being replanted. Considerable wilting attended the high day temperatures."

"Pastures and pastures at present generally offer poor prospects for future feed supply. A water and feed shortage prevails in places as the thermometer reached 106 degrees. Several deaths were reported from heat prostrations."

Hornor had asked that Illinois be included in the major drought area, contending that adequate relief cannot be obtained otherwise. His telegram to Wallace requested prompt action "to enable the movement into one state of livestock feed and farm seeds on the basis of emergency freight rates and also to permit the allocation of emergency relief funds to our state to be loaned to drought stricken Illinois farmers."

Director Walter W. McLaughlin announced that a survey of eight northeastern counties—Lee, DuPage, McHenry, Boone, Kendall, DeKalb, Cook and Kane—showed that 6,150 farmers need a carload of hay each.

McLaughlin said 2,050 farmers in the counties lack both funds and credit, 3,600 are financially impoverished but might repay loans and 2,800 are able to pay emergency costs.

Similar surveys are being made in other counties to support the state's requests for help from Washington.

To enable farmers to feed corn sealed in cribs as collateral for government loans, McLaughlin's office helped distribute official application forms.

Wagner Labor Bill And Housing Program Face Delays

Washington, June 6 —(AP)—Some of President Roosevelt's advisers in Congress are urging him to drop the Wagner labor disputes bill and the housing proposal from this session's program.

They tell him the Wagner bill will lead to vehement debate that might prolong the session into July. There is much opposition to it among the industrialists.

Administration leaders in the senate tried today to straighten out controversies over the form of the silver bill, hoping to obtain quick approval today or tomorrow.

Two liberalizing amendments have been offered by Senators Thomas (D. Okla.) and McCarran (D. Nevada).

Thomas proposed that the bill specify that silver purchased should be measured by its market value rather than the statutory price of $129 an ounce.

Would increase silver. This, he said, would authorize the purchase of several times the amount to be acquired under the bill as now drafted, because the

FIRST STAG OF SEASON AT C. C. PROVED SUCCESS Feature of Afternoon was Dedication of Ninth Green

Members of the Dixon Country club and their invited guests spent a most enjoyable afternoon and evening at the club yesterday, the event being the first of a series of stag parties to be held throughout the summer months. One of the principal events of the afternoon was the dedication of the ninth green which was constructed and built under the supervision of George Burch. The approach contest was won by Mr. Burch. In the golf event, first prize was won by Dr. F. L. Markel of Polo, Kenneth Detweiler won low score, C. C. Ball the high score prize, Otto Blum of Ashton and C. O. Ricketts of Minneapolis, Minn., golf prizes.

In other contests prizes were awarded John G. Ralston, Victor Eichler, Gerald Jones, J. B. Lennon and J. L. Hess of this city and Harry Badger of Amboy. Dixon merchants who contributed prizes for the various events were as follows: W. H. Ware, Overstreet Jewelry store, National Tea Co., Kathryn Beards Shoppe, Eichler Bros. Cahill Electric shop, Chester Barjaque, Netz & Co., Dixon Fruit Co., J. L. Glassburn, Boynton-Richards Co., Valle & O'Malley, Cities Service station, Bucks book shop, Campbell's White Cross Pharmacy, Isador Eichler and the Fallstrom food shop.

Golf enthusiasts occupied the greater part of the afternoon program and at 3:30 a bicycle rider furnished an interesting 15 minute program on the lawn at the club house. A sumptuous dinner was served at 6:30 which was followed by a program of music and other entertainment.

All attending pronounced the opening stag event, the most successful of any that has been staged at the club in years and the committee in charge is highly commended for the fine program of entertainment. Several golfers from surrounding towns were present and enjoyed the day.

It Averages About Three Million Dollars Every Month

Springfield, Ill., June 6 —(AP)—The two per cent retail sales tax today held its position as the state's major source of revenue, maintaining its monthly average of approximately $3,000,000 so far during 1934.

Liquor revenues, however, are falling behind some optimistic pre-war expectations and were only $423,529.78 during May.

The taxes on sales and liquor are the state's two major sources of revenue since the administration abandoned the property levy at the start of the year.

Is Biggest Item in the monthly report of State Treasurer John C. Martin, who announced that during May revenue, bringing to $78,569,446.86, his office took in $1,163,772.60 in the first five months of the calendar year.

Martin's office took in $2,987,074.90 as sales tax receipts during May boosting to $15,089,099.82 the total for the five months. Collections for a similar period during the last half of 1933 were $13,149,210.94.

To Surpass Fuel Tax If this ratio is maintained, the sales tax will produce more than the levy on motor fuel, which was the state's biggest source of cash last year, totaling $30,918,288.11.

The motor fuel funds are used for highways, schools and unemployment relief.

In the first month since the old beer law licenses, for retailers expired, the liquor control law produced slightly more than $400,000, while the total since January 1, from beverage taxes and fees has been $1,646,388.27.

During nine months of 1933, the beer law yielded $1,876,992.58.

Revenue from motor vehicle licenses, most of which is received early in the year, promises to be greater this year than in 1933. To date it totals $15,218,728.60, less than $250,000 under the figure for all of last year.

price is below 50 cents an ounce. McCarran's amendment would compel the president to issue silver certificates against all silver purchased and use them to pay off government obligations. The bill declares for a policy of purchasing silver to back the currency until eventually it will form a ratio of 25 to 75 with gold.

The president's power to issue silver certificates under the bill as now before the Senate is purely permissive.

Other silver senators indicated they were satisfied with the permissive form in view of assurances they said they had from the president that he would use the power.

IMPROVEMENTS IN VALLEY OF ILLINOIS PLAN

$27,000,000 Plan Is Recommended by Engineers

Washington, June 6 —(AP)—Federal expenditure of $27,000,000 would make the Illinois river valley little short of a paradise in waterway development, it was said today in the report of the interdepartmental commission to congress.

In transmitting the report to congress Roosevelt said it was merely a hurriedly collected summary of recommendations from the War, Interior and Agricultural departments, and that before it was accepted as final, a more extensive survey should be made before the next congress.

"The Illinois river valley project," the report said, "offers a diversified program of work which, if carried out, should prove of decided benefit, social and economic value to the basin."

A favorable consideration of this project is therefore recommended, subject to the imposed limitations, on the number of selected projects throughout the United States. The estimated cost of this project relating to the construction work alone is $27,000,000.

New Dams Urged Construction of new dams to replace old ones, widening of channels, building of levees and dams, elevating bridges, development of electrical power, draining of lowlands, reforestation, and flood control figured with equal emphasis in the report.

The general recommendations were:

1. Immediate completion of two locks and dams, and channel widening in Illinois river to cost $15,530,000.
2. Early construction of flood control works and channel improvement of the Kankakee and Sangamon rivers, and levees on the Illinois, to cost $6,300,000; and possible future construction of additional works on the Sangamon and Illinois rivers to cost $600,000.
3. The progressive development of water power possibilities of the valley, particularly those at navigation dams on the Illinois (presumably by the State of Illinois) involving an installed capacity of 48,500 kilowatts, and a cost of about $4,200,000.
4. Continued investigation of stream flow and ground water conditions at an estimated cost of $105,000.

Forest Restoration 5. Restoration to forests of about 300,000 acres of eroded land. Continued study of existing problems of land draining and land use, including conflicting requirements of agriculture, recreation, and wild life preserves, to develop a co-ordinated program of development for all.

Becoming specific, the commission mentioned, among other things, that the old lock at LaGrange—now 50 years old—should be replaced at the cost of $4,500,000. A lock and dam should be built at Peoria, Ill., at a cost of $4,632,000. All those portions of the channel now only 200 feet wide, should be widened to 300 feet, at a cost of $6,400,000.

The report recommended expenditure of $2,114,000 on enlargement of the Sangamon River channel and that $1,892,000 be set aside to replace broken levees on the Illinois as "cheap insurance" against flood damage in the valley.

Donna's Big Top

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Donna GABRIEL, circus performer, falls from the top of a big top and is injured. To please her partner, MADELINE SIDDA, Donna goes to Madeline's home for recuperation, pretending to be the other girl. She is ashamed of this deception but keeps it up, even when BILL SIDDA, Madeline's grandfather who owns the circus, asks her to marry him. AMOS SIDDA, Madeline's cousin, asks her to marry him. Mrs. SIDDA, Madeline's mother, asks her to marry him. Mrs. SIDDA, Madeline's mother, asks her to marry him.

Amos SidDA has a stroke. In New Orleans he goes into the cage with the Bengal tiger and is killed. Con is discharged by Donna, she agrees to meet him the next afternoon. Mrs. Planter learns of this and writes an anonymous letter to Bill.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXXVI

"THE Adams baby has diphtheria," Minnie announced as she took the remains of yesterday's roast turkey from the oven and placed it on a platter. "Ma says that last night Miss Adams sent for Doc Leamon. He was there for more'n an hour and he had to do something to the baby's throat."

"I hope the little thing will live," Donna answered. "Is anyone with Mrs. Adams?"

"Yes, her sister's there."

"Diphtheria is a terrible disease," Donna said. "I remember once when a child in the circus had it—"

Her voice trailed off as if a sudden thought had struck her. The Adams family were the SidDA's nearest neighbors. While Donna scarcely knew them, under other circumstances she would have offered her assistance at once.

The child's illness seemed an answer to her prayer. What could be more natural than to tell Bill that she was going over to see if there was anything she could do for the family with the sick child? And on the way back from town she would stop and make good her statement.

It seemed a positive inspiration. She had been unable to invent any excuse important enough to take her to Lebanon on a day when Grandfather SidDA was so ill. And Donna felt that she had to have an excuse. Con David would be waiting for her at three o'clock. She had promised she would meet him. What Con might do if she failed to be there, she dared not think.

At noon over the dinner table Donna passed on Minnie's information about the Adams baby. She added the fact that she knew something about diphtheria and remembered how they had treated a little girl in the circus who was suffering from it.

"If you don't think Grandfather needs me here I think I'll drive over to Adams' this afternoon," she said. "Maybe there's something I could do to help."

A. S. Marshall who has been ill at the home of his sister, Mrs. Ole Book in Mt. Morris for several weeks is improving in condition. greeted this suggestion with approval.

"That'd be nice, Honey. Mrs. Adams is a nice little woman and I reckon she's about worried sick. I know the little coddler. Just the sort of kid I hope we'll have some day. Better go early though—it looks as though we might have a blow."

The skies had darkened during the morning. There were snow clouds and a stiff wind was blowing that threatened to turn into a blizzard. As Bill spoke, a few big flakes scurried through the air and danced against the window pane.

"This time last year," Bill added, "we were snowed in for a week. Telegraph and telephone poles blew down. Trains couldn't get through, and a heap of livestock died of cold and starvation. I don't want you to get caught in a blizzard, Honey."

"There's not much chance when I'm going just half a mile," Donna laughed. But she glanced uneasily out of the window.

"I'll drive you over, if you like." This was what Donna had feared he would say. "No, no, I'd rather you didn't. I'm sure Grandfather will be all right, but just the same I think one of us should be within call."

"Maybe you're right." There was a new farm magazine to look over and Bill sprawled on the couch in the living room for some time after finishing his meal.

"Honey, did you notice Dr. Freeman this morning?" he asked. "Looks bad, doesn't he?"

"Does he?"

"Yes. I wonder if there is any truth in the reports going around?" "What reports?"

BILL laughed and reached out his hand. "You're not a gossip, are you, dear? I heard in town the other day that his wife is just a little too intimate with the fellow who boards with them. Of course in a small town everything a woman does is magnified and misconstrued but—"

"Bill! I'm surprised at you! To think you would listen to such talk!"

"I didn't, Sweet. I Bill laughed good-naturedly. "I was in Buck's feed store when Mrs. Freeman went by, and Buck and George Lincoln got to talking. I couldn't help hearing what they said for her."

"Didn't you stand up for her?"

"How could I, considering she was with the boarder when we saw her? There's an old saying that where there's fire there must be smoke. No—it's the other way around, isn't it? If she doesn't want talk, she shouldn't lay herself open to it by her actions. It's too bad. Freeman is a fine fellow. I reckon he's heard things."

"I suppose," Donna said tensely, "if there were smoke around me you'd look for the fire?"

"Sure would—but you take care there's no smoke! Boy, look at that snow. If you're going to the Adamses, you'd better get started."

"Yes, I suppose so."

"I'll get the car out for you." He rose and went to the window. "I don't believe I'd go today,

EMPLOY OXYGEN TO TREAT FIVE DIONNE BABIES

Physicians Amazed that Quintuplets are Alive at All

Corbelle, Ont., June 6.—(AP)—An oxygen tank was called into use today to stimulate the breathing of the prematurely born Dionne quintuplets.

The tank holds 95 per cent oxygen and 5 per cent carbon dioxide. It will be used daily to treat the five little sisters, all of them underweight.

Belief that there would have been six children born to 24-year-old Mrs. Ovide Dionne instead of five but for some undetermined accident was expressed by Dr. A. R. Dafoe, who attended the mother.

"I believe six embryos formed and one did not mature," he said. Dr. Dafoe said the babies were born at seven months and not eight months, as at first believed.

Twins are common in the family of Mrs. Dionne, the former Miss Elzabe Legros.

Twins Are Common

A cousin, Antonine Gaudreau of Masha Mills, Que., became the father of twin boys three days after the Dionne family started the world with their five babies.

Two uncles also were fathers of twins.

Dr. Dafoe denied reports that smoke from forest fires burning in northern Ontario had menaced the nine-day old infants.

The quintuplets are fed every two hours with human milk supplied from the children's hospital at Toronto.

Amazement at their appetite was expressed by Dr. William A. Dafoe, Toronto specialist, who is a demonstrator of obstetrics at the University of Toronto and a brother of the attending physician.

Pointing out that the tiny children weigh only a total of 10 pounds 2½ ounces, he said "they have no right to be alive at all. But they are and that is the wonder of it."

A FLAGSHIP REFLECTS THE GLORY OF THE NATION'S FLEET

A grim sentinel of steel standing in majestic silence, her bristling guns, turret and plane softly silhouetted in the dusk, the U. S. S. Pennsylvania, flagship of the fleet, here symbolizes the strength and beauty of the nation's proud first line of defense. This striking picture was taken in Hudson river after the big battleship, which led the great armada in review before President Roosevelt, had dropped anchor.

WHAT A TIRE! WHAT A TIRE!

See it here! Goodyear test drivers burned out brakes—wrecked cars—pounded the roads night and day—and it kept its grip twice as long as other tires!

WARNING!

Watch the rest of the industry try to copy this amazing tire. Watch them try to duplicate Goodyear's claims. But, remember, you have to have "non-skid" before you can have "non-skid mileage." And to have "non-skid," you have to have GRIP where you see it here—GRIP in the center of the tread—the place where it counts, because it's the spot where the tire contacts the road. Look at the grip on this Goodyear Tire and ask yourself why buy any tire that lacks this safety? And keep in mind that you cannot successfully build this type of non-skid tire without the extra durability of Supertwist cords.
